Key Motivation: I am the founder of a creative agency Artaviva (since 2003). I have been Art Director and General manager for over 16 years. I am also an artist with my own original creative style. With our steady team of 7 people, we have created many exciting and successful projects. We appreciate the trust of our regular customers and strive to complete all tasks as quickly as possible. I also devote a lot of time to volunteering and various social projects. My motto: "Love only grows by sharing. You can only have more for yourself by giving it away to others." — Brian Tracy
